

Do Now

How can goats help to change a society?

Aim

- To understand the use of goats to improve the economy in Tanzania

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=QnK9lxIbU4Q>

PREVIEW

Mindmap the uses of goats

Goats

Cheese

Babati

- Babati is an area of northern Tanzania
- 90% of the population in the province live in rural areas and rely on agriculture
- Between 1999 and 2006 the UK ran a goat aid programme here

PREVIEW

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Zjeyn22oiiY>

PREVIEW

Add further to your mindmap

Goats

Cheese

Bottom up aid

- This programme is an example of bottom up aid
- Goats were bought in for £400 each and a total of £200,000 was invested in goats
- Before the goats arrived villagers were trained in how to keep the goats, they were also told about the cost. There was a belief that if people thought they were free they would not care for them

Task

Using the data below create a pie chart to show the extra income spent in from the money from the goats

Use	Percentage of income spent
Buying food	12
Paying medical bills	19
School fees	25
House repairs and building	12
Buying land	1
Consumer goods	20
Increasing flock size	5
Improving farming	5
Goat house repairs	1

Task

Look at the table below. Has the scheme been successful? Use data to justify your answer.

Activity	Profit: farmers in the goat aid scheme	Profit: farmers not in the goat aid scheme
Crop production	£345	£154
Animals	£134	£67
Other business activities	£285	£45
Total	£764	£266

Criticisms

- Goats require lots of water and this takes this resources away from other
- Hooves and grazing habits can lead to desertification
- Vet bills are large if the goats get sick
- The project is small scale and ultimately has little impact on the countries overall food security
- Despite a 100 million animal increase in Tanzania over the past 50 years poverty levels have not changed

Task

For a country you have studied assess the success of a small scale attempt to solve poverty (6 marks)

PREVIEW

What have we learnt today?

Aim

- To understand the use of goats to improve the economy in Tanzania

PREVIEW